Riviere Que Barre Defeats Busby 18-3

MORINVILLE.—On Sunday, June 24th, the R.Q.B. juveniles turned in a fine game to defeat Busby in their first league game.

Mel Cust and Ray Como, the winning battery, turned in a very good game and were strongly supported in the field.

The attendance at the game was good and it is hoped that the boys will continue to receive support.

Teams wishing to play games with Riviere-Que-Barre may make arrangements with James or Lewis Falls.

MRS. IRENE BENNY is the centre of a Quebec hospital dispute. Superintendent of the community hospital at Pontiac, she was fired by the board of directors without the reason ever having been made public. Nurses recently held a three-hour wildcat strike in support of Mrs. Benny.

Mr. Wm. Wilson of Cherhill, was named vice-president, and Mrs. J. G. Harrold of St. Albert, women's director. At the board meeting following the convention, Mr. Oscar Hittinger of Morinville, was appointed district secretary.

Mr. Henry Young, principal speaker at the convention, stated that farmers of western Canada are not satisfied with the final five-year Wheat Pool payment and that there is serious talk among southern farmers of strike action. In order to avert the strike action the central executive of the union have suggested a special province wide convention of the FUA to deal with the wheat question.

The district convention went on record as favoring such a convention. The prime minister's recent refusal to meet a western farm delegation during the legislative sessions had not helped matters, Mr. Young stated. However, Mr. St. Laurent has now offered to send representatives of the government west to meet a farm delegation, but the farm leaders still wish to meet the prime minister himself and all western members of his government.

Mr. Young pointed out that the FUA has been instrumental in obtaining the removal of the farm fuel tax, and official farmers' holiday and the exemption of union dues from income tax.

Mrs. W. Ross, FWUA president, stated that this year farm women are again going to conduct a survey with the purpose of finding out why so many high school educated farm youth fail to return to the farms.

Mr. Harper spoke for CCIL. He explained that a Dominion government survey in 1949 proved that the cost of distributing machinery was equal to the cost of manufacture and that this fact was one of the main reasons for the establishment of the CCIL, which now saves a farmer 18 per cent of the usual cost of a farm machine.

The convention passed a number of resolutions. One asked that road grants be provided to municipalities on the basis of need. Another asked for the establishment of a cost of production index for all farm products. Still another requested that a grant of a small percentage of oil royalties be paid to those municipalities affected by oil production. Strong support was given the resolution requesting a change in the laws pertaining to trespassing and carrying of firearms.

Double Ring Rites Unite Legal Couple

LEGAL.—Father Langevin performed the double-ring ceremony which united Louise, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Mercier of Legal, to Daniel St. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. St. Martin, also of Legal.

For the 10:30 a.m. ceremony the bride chose a gown fashioned of illusion net and lace. At a reception held at La-marche Hall, the bride's table was centred with a beautiful wedding cake flanked by flowers.

After a honeymoon at Banff and Jasper the couple will reside at the Legal Store Corner.

Oil Refinery Production Takes Big Jump Here

More than 5,200 barrels of crude oil are being processed daily in the new British American Oil Refinery, opened Wednesday by Premier E. C. Manning.

Official opening was attended by several hundred persons. The plant was built in 13 months.

Guests who attended the opening ceremonies included Hon. George Prudham, Minister of Mines and Technical Surveys for Canada; Hon. N. E. Tanner, Minister of Mines and Minerals and Minister of Lands and Forests for Alberta; Mayor S. G. Parsons of Edmonton, and Reeve G. W. Moyer of Strathcona Municipality.

Company directors and officers, who flew to Edmonton for the opening, included president W. K. Whiteford and M. S. Beringer, who, as vice-president in charge of manufacturing, directed the construction of the new refinery. Following the opening ceremony, guests toured the big $7,000,000 refinery. Guides gave continuous commentaries during the tour.

During the ceremonies, a plane flew over the city sky-writing, and a captive blimp hovered over the refinery.

The refinery was built on a 160-acre site a few miles east of Edmonton on Highway 16.

It is in the midst of a growing industrial area, which includes another refinery and a chemical plant on which construction is just beginning.

Fire Guts Vimy Home

Fire of unknown origin started Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gouin. All the furniture was removed from the house. The house was saved although ruined inside.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Landry and their two daughters, Lorraine and Denise, have left for a three-week vacation in Vancouver and the States.

Mr. R. Soucy and Mr. J. Fagan visited Bonnyville lately.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Sequin left Sunday for a trip down east. Mr. Sequin will return with a new international truck.

Mr. W. Provencal has purchased a school van from Mr. Maurier of Legal. This van will bring the Springfield school to Vimy.

Last week Rev. Father Mailoux made his retreat in St. Paul.

Holidaying in Vimy for a short time are Funchy Beauchamp and Juliette Bernard.

Cancer Is Not Always Incurable

The one-time belief that cancer could not be cured is giving way to the knowledge that medical science has developed ways of diagnosing and treating the disease, arresting its progress and often curing it in its early stages. Any suspected symptom should be discussed immediately with your doctor.

New Canadians Arriving Here

New Canadians, mostly immigrants from Displaced Persons' camps in Europe, are continuing to arrive in Edmonton.

Friday more than 100 arrived here. Forty will remain in Edmonton, while the remainder plan to move on to points in the northern half of the province.

Alcomdale Baseball Scores

ALCOMDALE.—At the Busby Farmers' picnic, June 22, the Alcomdale Juveniles won over Busby 14-2. The Alcomdale Seniors lost to Busby and tied with Goldthorpe on a 4-4 score. The teams divided the prize money.

On June 24 Alcomdale Juveniles won over Pickardville 9-8 after an exciting game with three innings' overtime.

St. Albert Playground Opens Officially

ST. ALBERT.—In 1946 a few civic minded citizens met to discuss plans for a playground. An executive committee was formed with Mr. J. Leclair, president; Dr. W. Cuts, secretary-treasurer; directors, Mrs. Cuts, Mr. N. Ross and Father Bideau.

With the financial help from the Community League and Town a nice playground was made east of the chapel. Brush had to be cleared and a hill leveled.

Now, in 1951, after raising and spending some $1,300 and the work and donations of some citizens, there is a nice playground with a good backdrop for softball, slide, three teters, sand pit and basketball and volley ball courts.

A playground supervisor is hired for July and August every year. The grounds are fenced in the south and east.

On Friday evening, Dr. Cuts gave a resume of the organization and founding of the Sturgeon playground, and an itemized statement of the treasurer's report.

In the election that followed, Dr. W. Cuts is president; Harold Vague, sec-treasurer. Directors are: Mrs. W. Cuts, Jimmy Roberts, Parish Priest, W. Herron, J. Leclair, Neil Ross H. Benion.

Margaret Foyal has been supervising the playground in June and will continue into July.

Wheat Prices and Bread Prices

The whole milling and baking industry has come in for a round of censure over the recent modest increase of 6 cents per bushel in the price of wheat to the producer.

The industry, apparently, was ready to increase the price of a loaf of bread by one cent, while paying only one-ninth of a cent extra for the wheat that goes into it. Typical of the criticism voiced is the following from the Calgary Albertan:

The 6-cent increase in the price of wheat was followed instantly by announcements of actual or pending increases in the price of flour and bread. The 20-ounce loaf sold in Calgary for 13 cents will probably go up to 14 cents.

We have no particular objection to changes in the price of bread. If real competition exists, it can be assumed the price is competitive and therefore fair.

But let's be careful about how that bread price increase is explained.

The Canadian Wheat Board and the milling industry have a rule of thumb that 4½ bushels of wheat make 100 pounds of flour. And most bakeries find that 100 pounds of flour are needed for 150 pounds of bread or 120 20-ounce loaves. According to our figuring that works out to about 1.1 pounds of wheat for a loaf of bread.

With wheat costing 6 cents a bushel more, that means that 1.1 pounds of wheat cost .11 cents more. It means that the farmer will get one-ninth of a cent more for each loaf of bread. Yet the price will go up a full cent. Who will get the other eight-ninths of a cent?

Some bakers point out that their other costs have gone up too. Other ingredients are more expensive, labor rates are higher.

Assuming that the full cent increase is justified, let the consumer remember that only a ninth of it is due to the increased cost of wheat. Any attempts to explain higher bread prices solely or even largely in terms of higher wheat prices should be branded for what they are—a plain deception.

Fortunately, the dominion government has foreseen this attempted gouging of the public by the baking and milling industries. The government will not charge the extra 6 cents per bushel to the domestic users of wheat. The increased cost will no doubt come as a subsidy from the dominion treasury, but as everyone eats bread, everyone will be paying the extra cost accordingly. And only one-ninth of a cent instead of a full one-cent increase in price, which the baking and milling profiteers would like to charge.

No Chance For Normal Lives

Recognizing that many Americans would sacrifice their country's position of leadership in world affairs for the comfortable isolation that existed before World War I, Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, of Canada, recently told the graduates of Northwestern University that they would never know "normal" lives if that meant being without worry about the problems of the rest of the human race.

The Prime Minister asserted that, on the course of the U.S.A., "the fate of all mankind largely depends." As the "dominant factor in the free world," which faces the "most forbidding prospect of more than a hundred years," the great task of statesmanship is to maintain "a balance" between the free and Communist worlds without war.

In the end, declared the speaker, there must be a free world or a world in chains.

Expressing confidence that the United States would not fail to mobilize its moral and material resources to meet the world crisis, just as it did twice before to uphold freedom, our Canadian statesman warned against listening to those who urged striking now against Russia's military power, those who urge that "it is better to go it alone and take the consequences," and those "Communist fellow-travellers who urge other nations to remain neutral in the big-power conflict."

Note and Comment

Nature does her best to persuade mankind that this is a pleasant earth.

There may be nothing new under the sun but the present generation is seeing it for the first time.

The Lighter Side Of Lawmaking

By T. W. PUE

Last week another session of Parliament closed, and though I haven't read much of Hansard or noticed a great deal of comment about it anywhere, I imagine both Houses had their share of the funny bits, the ridiculous and the absurd. Out of the usually dull and sometimes grim debating comes a bit of laughter and merriment.

R. B. Bennett, as Opposition Leader, could pack members in on both sides of the House of Commons by his ready wit and snappy repartee. But his old antagonist, Mr. King, would frequently end a lively discussion with a simple observation that left no room for reply.

T. W. PUE

HAIR TO COMB

There was the time, for instance, when a Conservative member, balding type, was taking the Liberals to task for high taxes. That was back in 1936, but even at that time Opposition members thought taxes were high. He accused Mr. King of taxing everything that could be taxed, suggesting in derision that the only thing left untaxed was the right to comb one's hair.

Amid howls of laughter, Mr. King replied simply: "The Hon. Member would be very fortunate if he had any hair to comb."

SAILING A BOAT

I told that story to J. E. Matthews, who was Liberal member from Brandon, Manitoba, from 1937 until his death early this year. Mr. Matthews said he could top it with one of his own.

Older readers of this column will remember Hon. H. H. Stevens, who was a Minister in the Bennett Conservative regime, 1930 to 1935. He broke with Bennett and formed his own "Reconstruction" party which in the 1935 election helped assure defeat of the Conservatives. But he was re-elected himself, and in the House shortly after was telling Mr. King how he should sail the ship of state through the then troubled waters of depression, rising Hitlerism and the Ethiopian crisis. In the midst of telling Mr. King he should travel around the country and see how bad conditions were, he was obliged to stop talking when a Liberal back-bencher advised him "Aw, sit down. You scuttled one ship!"

WHEN RUFUS WASN'T THERE

Readers will no doubt be familiar with the parliamentary system of "pairing off". When a member of one party "pairs off" with a member of another party, it is agreed that in case either is unable to be in the house during a vote, his opposite will not vote. This same system holds forth in the U.S. Congress in Washington.

According to George Dixon, columnist in the Chicago Daily News, wonderful memories of one of the greatest bellylaughs ever to disrupt solemn Senate procedure came flooding back when former Senator Rufus Holman, Ore., paid a return visit to the Capitol.

The Republican, Mr. Holman, retired from the Senate in 1945, but his name often comes up in the story of the great guffaw, which probably will be retold as long as there is a person with any sense of humor left in Washington.

Mr. Holman never intended to be funny. But he rendered the Senate almost helpless with hysterical laughter. Here's what happened.

The serious-visaged solon, his pan as solemn as usual, arose to announce he was pairing off in the voting with (the late) Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, Mississippi.

Clearing his throat importantly, Mr. Holman proclaimed:

"If Senator Bilbo were here he would vote 'aye'. And if I were here I would vote 'no'."

The bellows of laughter told him something was wrong, so he got up again.

"What I meant to say," he amended, "was that if Senator Bilbo were here he would vote 'no' and if I were here I would vote 'aye'."

Then the roof fell in.

Do Cows See Dentist Twice a Year?

Perhaps cows, too, should see their dentist twice a year. If a cow is having trouble digesting her food, or even eating it, her teeth may be at fault. One of the country's leading veterinarians recently pointed out that stockmen and veterinarians should be on the lookout for bovine dental troubles.

One cow refused to eat, while the vet was checking her throat he sliced his finger on a sharp tooth. When the tooth was extracted the cow went back to her normal eating habits. Cows normally have good teeth for the job at hand, but the animals' teeth should not be ruled out as a source of trouble.

Brawls between servicemen and youths in Edmonton recently pose an alarming symptom in Alberta life. Is Alberta's younger generation destined for such cowardly behavior as that shown above?

SEXY BOOK JACKETS

Dear Sir—Who says sex hasn't got a lot to do with whether a book will be a best-seller? Recently I had a copy of Rosemond Marshall's "Laird's Choice". I removed the jacket and then asked several people if they wanted to read it. Several flipped idly through the pages and murmured, "I don't think I'd enjoy this kind of book." So then I replaced the sexy jacket and went to lunch. When I got back five people were fighting to read the book!

WHEAT PRICES, POLITICS

Dear Sir—Two weeks ago, the Wheat Board put up the price of wheat six cents, but one week later the domestic six cent boost was suddenly taken off. Who was it put the political pressure on Ottawa to gyp the farmers? Open market wheat at above grades are $2.32. Will some wise guy tell us which of the above is straight price?

BIBLE GOD'S WORD

Dear Sir—If the Bible wasn't all inspired by God, what are we to cut out? Does Rev. Berry have the formula for dissecting the scriptures? II Timothy 3:16 says "All scripture is given by inspiration of God." The "Word of the Lord." "The Lord Said" and similar expressions are to be noted over 2,000 times in the Bible. If after reading these portions he still thinks the Bible is false, Mr. Berry should get a job selling soap—if he can!

Waskatenau. BELIEVER.

Dear Sir—I, too, read W. G. Berry's denunciation of the Bible. Coming from a professed minister of the Gospel, this is somewhat surprising, although it illustrates very well the popular attitude toward the Old Book. In the days of our fathers it was revered as the Word of God, and believed to be divinely inspired and authoritative. Now we are told that it is a book of Oriental folklore, written thousands of years ago when practically nothing was known of science, and that it therefore contains many scientific inaccuracies. It is my conviction that if the Bible is either scientifically or historically inaccurate, it no longer bears the imprint of a revelation from God, and thus ceases to be an authority in matters of religion. The Bible cannot be religiously beneficial and scientifically false.

VIGOR IN VEGETABLES

Dear Sir—Someone who was complaining about the high cost of living said they needed a lot of meat to keep strong. Well, I clean my eight muscles every day and do hard physical work besides. And I don't need meat to carry on my strenuous activities. It's plain murder to be a meat-eater. No animal bodies enter mine. I am small and hard as a nail, and hope to live longer than G. B. Shaw.

HYPO FOR VOTERS

Dear Sir—Everybody knows we would get better government if all the people turned out and voted—that way we'd knock the props from under machine politics. I suggest that each voter be given a small slip of paper, to be signed and deposited in a container after he casts his ballot. Then have a drawing, with substantial prizes donated by Boards of Trade or any civic or business group. This program should increase the vote appreciably.

Banff Laying Plans To Celebrate Indian Days

Indian tom-toms will beat out a welcome message from the lodges of the Stonys to thousands of visitors at the annual Indian Days celebration which will be held at Banff July 19 to July 22.

For the 62nd consecutive year, the Stonys, noted hunters of the mountain area, will leave their reservation 40 miles east of Banff for the overland trek to the mountain resort, and for four days they will entertain the visitors with displays of horsemanship, parades, cowboy contests, and horse races.

NATIVE CONCERTS

In the evenings, the Indians will present native concerts in the special outdoor auditorium at the Banff Springs Hotel. Dressed in their native headdress and buckskin outfits, men, women and children will take part in the program. They will sing their tribal dances, and as a grand wind-up every evening, they will invite their white friends to participate with them in the Owl Dance.

A lot of water has cascaded over Bow Falls since Bearsapaw led his Stonys into Banff for the first Indian Days celebration back in 1889. Banff was but a hamlet then, and Calgaryans who attended the unique event travelled from Calgary by train, which in those days was an adventure in itself.

Now, automobiles, trains, and airplanes bring visitors to Banff from all parts of the world for the four-day all-Indian celebration, which is rapidly becoming a "must" during the Canadian holiday season.

The Stampede and Rodeo contests, which is one of the features of the celebration, are held in the Buffalo Park, a mile east of the centre of the town. Here an Indian village blossoms almost overnight. The Stonys bring out their best ceremonial teepees and they are set up in a long line along the main "street" of the village. A special section of the camp is set aside for visiting Indians, Sarcees from Calgary, Blackfoot from Gleichen, Bloods from Cardston, Cree from Hobbema, and northern Stonys from Nordegg.

SAYS RIEL MISJUDGED

CALGARY, Alta. — (RUP)—Louis Riel, hanged for his leadership of the rebellion which jolted Western Canada in the late 19th century, has been described as a gentle, humane and kindly man mistreated by history.

Historian Frank W. Anderson of Calgary said Riel was not a little dictator who ran roughshod over the early west. Anderson said Riel could be described as the Father of Western Canada. Riel took "honesty in public affairs" as his motto, Anderson says, and once turned down a $4,000,000 United States bribe rather than betray Britain.

welcomed, more than 100 teepees will have been erected in the village, and this colorful sight attracts scores of amateur photographers who visit the camp at all hours looking for "shots" that are different.

Farming Big Business For Alberta Man; Costs Him $2000 Daily To Plant Crop

CALGARY — (BUP)—Farming is big business for O. B. Lassiter, who estimates he spent about $2,000 a day this spring to put in the crop on his farm 60 miles east of here.

Just how big a business Lassiter makes of tilling the soil is shown by a few figures on his farming operations:

Acres: 4,500.
Initial expenditure: $50,000.
Men: About 50.
Equipment: Seven caterpillar tractors, seven tractors.

Lassiter is a "dry-land farmer" who learned the tricks of the trade in California before he came to Alberta in 1917. He operates on soil that 30 years ago drove out hundreds of homesteads who could not make a go of it.

The "super farmer" is seeding nearly seven square miles, most of it virgin soil. His methods may be unorthodox, but they are scientific.

Lassiter figures that the cost of operating on the rolling land, part of the old Sunshine Ranch, is 50 per cent higher than if it were level and without rocks. More than $1 an acre is spent on rock removal.

He said it all is a question of methods, and admitted that farming in the dry area is a risky one. He said he felt, however, that proper methods and implements could overcome the lack of moisture.

Early farmers who ventured into the area failed because of their methods and because they farmed on too small an acreage, he believes. Lassiter's method is best explained by reviewing the manner in which he prepared the land and planted this year's crop.

The land was broken with 39-foot Graham-Hoome three-section plows last fall an inch deep from five different directions, then left to catch moisture during the winter.

Large crews of rock pickers then went to work and 16-foot double offset discs with double harrows behind broke the clods before seeding started with a new-type seed drill. Up to three double harrows were carried out after seeding.

Lassiter said he used the new Noble shoe-type press drill to "get the seed where it belongs in the firm, moist and clear seed bed." The seed is placed three inches down to take advantage of sub-surface moisture through capillary action.

The machine is being used for the first time in Alberta outside the testing ground of inventor C. S. Noble of Nobleford, Alta. It works on the principle of the old-fashioned shoe drill by dropping the seed deep in the ground through pipes.

The machine was planned as a follow-up to the Noble blade which cuts weed roots and loosens the top soil without disturbing the trash that keeps dry soil from drifting.

Missing Links

Sometimes our federal, provincial and local institutions are criticized when the actual lack lies not with the individual institution which is doing its job, but with discrepancies related to its work and just beyond its jurisdiction. These missing links become more apparent as people attempt to cope with the difficulties encountered in trying to solve the problem.

Law makers can do something to make these discrepancies less in regard to our law breakers—even the convicted ones. For the number convicted there are many others who mingle freely in society because they had the necessary monetary payment for the fine, or the wherewithal to obtain legal counsel.

We didn't choose to be born in Canada instead of Russia or China. We just happened to be that fortunate. Neither were these convicted persons responsible for their early environment. They were the victims of it—more than some of us care to think!

With some trepidation I visited the provincial jail at Fort Saskatchewan. Two years less one day is the longest sentence for entrance here. More than two years is served at the federal penitentiary—our closest, Prince Albert. I went right through the buildings and saw the clean living, eating and working conditions as well as the laundry, the cells, the kitchen, (they make their own good bread), as well as the barns and greenhouse. I left with a more accurate and much less depressing picture of such an institution.

The inmates are kept busy at various duties which helps to keep down the cost of their isolation. The men have the opportunity of learning something about cement work, bricklaying, carpentry, plastering, tile laying, plumbing, barbering, shoe repairing, stationary boiler engineering, motor mechanics, farming and horticulture. The women can learn cooking, sewing, steam laundry work including Every former member of the CWAC, who can attend will be warmly welcomed by the Winnipeg members who are sponsoring the convention".

LETTER TO LOUISA

Girl Wrong In Asking Boy to Miss College

Dear Louisa: I am a high school girl and very much in love with a boy of my own age.

I would like to get married but this boy I am going with is planning to go to college and he will have to work to help pay his way. I have tried to persuade him to take a job when he finishes school so we won't have to wait four years.

Don't you think that he would do this if he really loved me?

SEVENTEEN.

Answer:

You are very foolish to try to persuade this young man to give up his chance for an education in order to take a job that he will be unhappy doing. After the first few months, he would probably be discontented and blame all the troubles that came his way on you.

To begin with he is certainly too young to take on the responsibility of a wife and family and while both of you may feel now that there will never be another person in your lives, it may be so and it may not!

At any rate, if you are both truly in love, you will stay that way, for a few years even though you are not married. On the other hand, if either of you realizes that you have grown apart and that your taste in your ideal of the other sex has changed, it will be much better to find it out before you are married than afterwards.

So many young people rush into hasty marriages before they realize what they are doing. They are physically attracted by some boy or girl and forget that this is only one of many things that have to be considered if a marriage is to be a happy one.

A boy of seventeen is too young to marry and the fact that this boy has to depend on himself to make a living makes it even more unwise.

Be glad that your friend has sense enough to know the value of an education.

LOUISA.

Dear Louisa: I have two children eight and ten and I always try to be at home when they come from school. I think it is bad for children to come home to an empty house.

My friends think I am silly because I refuse invitations that keep me away. What do you think?

MOTHER.

Answer:

I agree with you that a child feels greater security when they know mother will be home when they arrive and I think, as a gen-

Labor, Management Clash On 40-Hour-Week Plan

Labor representatives proposing a 40-hour, five-day week for Alberta Monday met solid opposition from management representatives at the second bi-annual labor-management conference here.

Object of the conference was to review the Alberta Labor Act and hear views of both industry and labor. Chairman was Dr. J. L. Robinson, Minister of Industry and Labor.

Labor representatives proposed a 40-hour week to replace the present 48-hour, six-day work week in the Alberta Labor Act. They said a shorter work week would increase production by providing needed leisure for employees.

Management representatives opposed the suggestion on grounds it would constitute Government interference in the field of collective bargaining.

They said Provincial and Federal Governments urged increased production for the defence emergency and this could be obtained only by longer working hours.

The management representatives also stated that shorter hours would add to the cost of living and that some workers on 40-hour weeks in Alberta take other jobs on their days off.

Dr. Robinson said the question was one the Government must now decide itself.

The LIGHTER SIDE

A Slight Misunderstanding

A Scotsman, on a visit to Canada, noticed the mounted head of a bull moose hanging in the hall of the house where he was staying. He asked his host what sort of animal it was.

Host: "Oh, that's a moose."
Scotsman: "A moose! Eh, mon, what are your rats like over here?"

In a Daze

"How did the Smith wedding go off?"
"Fine, until the parson asked the bride if she'd obey her husband."

"What happened then?"
"She replied, 'Do you think I'm crazy,' and the groom who was in a sort of daze, replied, 'I do.'"

One Method

"Could you give me a recipe for cold tomato soup?"
"Well, one simple method is to be very late for dinner."

Proved

A man recently won a bet by entering a restaurant with a lion. He wished to prove that waiters could move quickly.

Couldn't Stump Him

The new minister always had a scripture quotation ready for any question asked him. One day a bug flew in his mouth and he swallowed it. A little boy stepped up and asked:

"Do you have a text from the scripture for that?"

"Yes," said the minister: "He was a stranger and I took him in."

Sized Up

"Little Girl, what will you do when you're as big as your mother?"
"Diet."

Chemical Boom Seen Result Oil Discovery

Vast "mammal" developments involving $80,000,000 in Alberta's chemical industry were predicted by J. E. Oberholzer, deputy minister of industries and labor for Alberta, in an address to the Canadian Chemical conference at the University of Manitoba.

"A number of current happenings have combined to bring about the decisions of various companies to extend chemical production in Alberta.

"The discovery and rapid development of the Alberta oil fields is the key item," the deputy minister said.

Some developments planned or underway, he said, were:

1. Development by the Canadian Salt Company to produce about 20 tons of chlorine a day and 24 tons of caustic soda.

2. The celanese Corporation of America's Canadian Chemical Company plant at Edmonton to produce cellulose acetate and various chemicals.

"The possibilities are great," Mr. Oberholzer said. "In front of us we have petroleum refineries, two plants based on hydrocarbons, two on sulphur and one on salt."

Pioneer's Picture Presented To U. of A.

The last photograph taken of Hon. Frank Oliver, founder of The Edmonton Bulletin, has been presented to the University of Alberta by his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Anderson, 9924 106 St.

The large framed picture will be hung in the rare book room at the campus library.

Mr. Oliver was one of the pioneers of the west. He passed away in 1932.

He has a grandson, Frank Oliver, who is at present a student at the university.

Mr. Oliver served as minister of the interior in Sir Wilfred Laurier's cabinet, and after retiring from politics he served as a member of the board of railway commissioners, now the department of transport.

He received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University in 1931.
